Special abilities:

All Guns Blazing – After this unit attacks in your assault phase, it can make one extra attack against a Soldier.

Analysis:

Super fast and rather cheap, this tank is a great one for the British strategy of fast early strikes (the Cromwell and Crusader tanks have the “Vanguard” ability). Although the Stuart is fairly useless against armored vehicles from a distance, it has the speed to swing in behind them for a rear shot (e.g., the Panzer IVs only have 3 defense in the rear). Additionally, it’s a fantastic unit for zipping ahead and taking out those annoying ammo dumps, machine gun teams, mortars, and artillery, and then taking out another one with the “All Guns Blazing” ability. However, they should have called it the “Going Out in a Blaze of Glory” ability, as it won’t last long with 4/3 defense.
